

PRINCIPAL'S COMMENT

Respect - Valuing yourself

The PBL focus for the last couple of weeks has been on students looking after their own wellbeing. This includes eating a healthy diet and getting enough sleep.

We have all heard the term 'hangry', referring to the feeling of agitation and lowered resilience brought on by being hungry. It is very important for our students to eat a healthy breakfast to kick off their day in a positive way, and ensure they are eating throughout the day, to maintain their brains energy levels.

Equally important, getting 8-10 hours of sleep a night is essential for a teenagers brain to absorb new information effectively. Not since they were toddlers, have teenagers brains worked so hard, so they need to rest their brains. Sleep allows the brain to consolidate all of the information that has been thrown at it during the day.

With the end of the term being the peak time for assessment, it is important to schedule study time to include snack breaks, mindfulness, rest activities and sleep. This way our students will be fully prepared to do their very best in their assessment.

Vanessa Moller - Principal

QUT HACKATHON

By Mrs Mollenhauer

Tuesday 15 August, 8 students from years 9 and 10 participated in the QUT Hackathon as a part of Science Week. Ella, Shanti, Chelsea, Rhiannon, Jack, Tom, James and Jay were presented with some environmental issues that included coral bleaching, air quality and recycling. They then worked with QUT undergraduates and industry representatives to create solutions and then pitch their ideas to a panel. Team CSER won the “Highly Commended” trophy along with a board game. The Sci Guys also did extremely well, winning the “People’s Choice” trophy. Well done students!

LINK AND LAUNCH

Renee Feather - Link and Launch Coordinator

This term my focus has been on connecting with the current Year 12 students via community and school events. It was lovely to see so many NSHS students come through and grab some jellybeans from me at the TAFE South Burnett Careers Market. It was a wonderful display of opportunities available in the region and further abroad, which I hope inspired many students in their future endeavours. I also had the opportunity to interact with the Year 12's again at the Safer Schoolies event, delivered by various community services at school last week. It was great to see them so attentive to the very important information being delivered during this session. As a bonus from Link and Launch, they were able to take some freshly made popcorn with them as they left.

For the remainder of the school year, I will continue to attend any events that I am able to and will be asking the Year 12's to volunteer their contact details to me. This is not compulsory but is a way for me to connect with them after they have graduated and see if they require support. The Link and Launch program is designed to help young people decide what further study, training or employment might be best for them and to assist them in pursuing their chosen pathway if needed. I can assist young people to navigate the system and consider a range of post-school study, training and work options in line with their individual goals, aspirations, skills and strengths. Link and Launch aims to support young people to make independent choices that will equip them to make a successful transition. You can find more information, including previous participants testimonies online here: <https://www.wethedifferents.qld.edu.au/link-launch/> Or feel free to contact me (Renee Feather) directly on 0460 010 431 or rfeat6@eq.edu.au

ARTS SHOWCASE 2023

by Grace Kevill-Davies (Art Department Co-ordinator)

Friday 18 August, our art students got to present their work to the local community in our Annual Arts Showcase. Artwork featured was a vast selection of both 2D and 3D work in various mediums from both the junior and senior schools.

In 2D media was a selection of prints, paper mâché sculptures, drawings, and beautiful ink works ranging in themes from the environment, place and pop art. The seniors presented interesting installations, landscape paintings of the South Burnett, and clay totem designs in response to the theme of flowers. The students worked hard in art to produce quality work and experiment with many art styles and forms.

This year we presented certificates for ‘Best in Show’ & ‘Best in Junior’ and ‘Senior Art’ for students curriculum work that was included at the Showcase. We believe it is important to recognise students hard work, commitment and success in art.

Henrika and myself would like to thank family, staff and friends who attended the night. We would like to thank our judge, Linda Stern (Deputy Principal) who did a great job judging.

Our 2023 Book Week celebrations went off with a bang this year! Not only did over 60 members of staff dress up, but we had students from all year levels participating in the day. It was a great morning celebrating the impact books have had on our lives and the importance of literacy. This year, money raised from our dress up went to The Indigenous Literacy Foundation. We also held a very successful book sale where we sold every book for $1. This was very popular with students and staff with 475 books finding new homes. Many of the books not sold on the day will be donated to the Rotary Club to donate overseas. Stay tuned for next year's book sale and all the fun events of the 2024 Book Week celebrations!

BUSINESS CLASS - MOVIE NIGHT

by Mrs Early

The Year 12 Certificate III Business class presented the movie, 'Blended' at the school hall on Friday night, 25 August. The students organised games during intermission and the food for the night. The night was a big success and we would like to thank those that attended. A big thank you to the staff who supported the event. The money raised will go towards helping the Breakfast Club.

PEDAL PRIX

by Mr Anderson

During the last 12 months I have had the pleasure of working with some truly sensational young people. Finding students that want to go far above, and beyond, then having the ability to assist them in extending themselves is one of the most joyful parts of being a teacher.

Ethan Forbes, backed up by Brooke Le Strange, Jean Luc Barnett and Jericho Pogany have extended themselves, grown in skills and as people, as they designed and constructed a brand new addition to our fleet of Pedal Prix trikes. Working in the engineering workshop during class, on many weekends and often well into the night, these students have produced what is now the flagship of our race team.

The first race will be in Toowoomba on 9 September. The students have named the trike Archer after the first winner of the Melbourne Cup.

Thank you to Heritage Bank Nanango for their sponsorship of 2 sets of wheels and the drive train. Thanks to Mr Peter Bellingham who is sponsoring the trip to Toowoomba for Archer's Debut competition.

LANGUAGE OF FLOWERS

By Ethan Williams (12VAP)

Totem poles are designed by the Native American people to display different meanings and purpose. Cultural beliefs or commemorating ancestors are popular reasons for their construction. These totem poles were usually carved from wood. The VAP Class of 2023 created two totem poles with the themes “Native Australian Plants and Flowers” and “The Meaning of Flowers” chosen by the students. These poles suit Nanango’s environment as they come from the land and fit along with the other totem poles.

Native American Totem Pole

The entire class as well as Miss Ambrutye, helped come up with the theme ideas. Next, a vote was cast, and the most popular themes were picked. Miss Ambrutye and Miss Gaedtke helped with the clay process, and Mr Kingsford helped with the placement of the poles. The order of the totem poles was decided by students, however, minor changes were made during installation because the totems, which are thicker, looked better at the bottom.

The flower I chose was the Titan Arum, commonly known as the Corpse Flower. Its name comes from the horrible smell of the plant when it is blooming. The plant is unique for its structure as well as its rare blooming cycle which takes 7-80 years. It is one of the largest flowers being 3.6 metres tall. My segment of the pole will be located third from the top. I chose this position as I wanted my sculpture to be visible. Titan Arum means birth and death suiting this plant due to its life cycle and scent.

The construction of the totem pole was tough due to the clay being very sticky at first. A large chunk of clay was rolled out and folded around a cylindrical object. I then moulded corpse flowers ensuring to capture all the detail from the plant. A criss-cross pattern was put onto the back of the moulded plants and the sculpture where the plant needed to be placed. A special solution called slip, made from clay and water, was put on both crossed sections and the clay was bound to the pole. After the details were added, a sponge with water was used to smooth out the bumps, and the sculpture was left to dry. Then it was bisque fired and cooled. Next, the sculpture was under-glazed with colour and dried before a final white glaze was added. I chose yellow, brown, green, and purple for this sculpture’s colour scheme as they were the colours from the flower. The final step was another thin firing. My section of the totem pole fits the theme of Language of Flowers, as the Titan Arum’s meaning of Birth and Death relates to the theming. The placement between the Library and Admin is suitably placed alongside other totem poles in the area.

The totem pole will remain as a collaborative art piece made by the VAP class of 2023 and will be identified and viewed by later classes in the future. The totem pole will educate viewers about different native flowers and plants of Australia. It will also inspire viewers to learn the meanings of flowers and their language.

The Premier's Anzac Prize

At a glance

The Anzac spirit is owned by all Australians and must be passed down through the coming generations.

The Premier's Anzac Prize provides an opportunity for young Queenslanders to gain an in-depth understanding of the Anzac legacy through research, workshops and visits to important memorial sites on the Western Front (UK, France and Belgium). The Western Front is where Australian service people sacrificed so much during World War I.

Queensland students and teachers are encouraged to apply for this once in a lifetime opportunity.

The 2024 Premier's Anzac Prize is proudly presented in partnership with RSL Queensland.

Who can apply

The Premier's Anzac Prize is open to all eligible Year 8 to Year 11 Queensland high school students and registered Queensland teachers from both state and non-state schools.

How to apply

Applicants are invited to submit their application forms and students are also invited to submit a multimedia presentation addressing the following key question:

How might the diverse stories of the Anzac Spirit, forged from overwhelming odds and sacrifice, inspire Australians to be resilient in an ever changing and increasingly challenging world?

In your response, refer to the legacy of Australia's involvement in World War I (e.g. Gallipoli, the Western Front, the Middle East) and one other conflict (e.g. World War II, the Korean War, the Vietnam War, the Gulf War, the East Timor Conflict or the Afghanistan War - a 21st century

Key dates

- Student and chaperone applications open – Thursday 13 April 2023
- Chaperone applications close – Monday 17 July 2023
- Student applications close – Friday 8 September 2023
- Young Historians' Workshop – 10 to 12 January 2024
- Premier's Anzac Prize tour – 13 to 28 April 2024 (tentative)

To find out more about the Premier's Anzac Prize, and to download the application forms, please visit the website www.qld.gov.au/anzacprize or scan the QR code.
